

ECA's Guide to Ethical Shopping in Melbourne

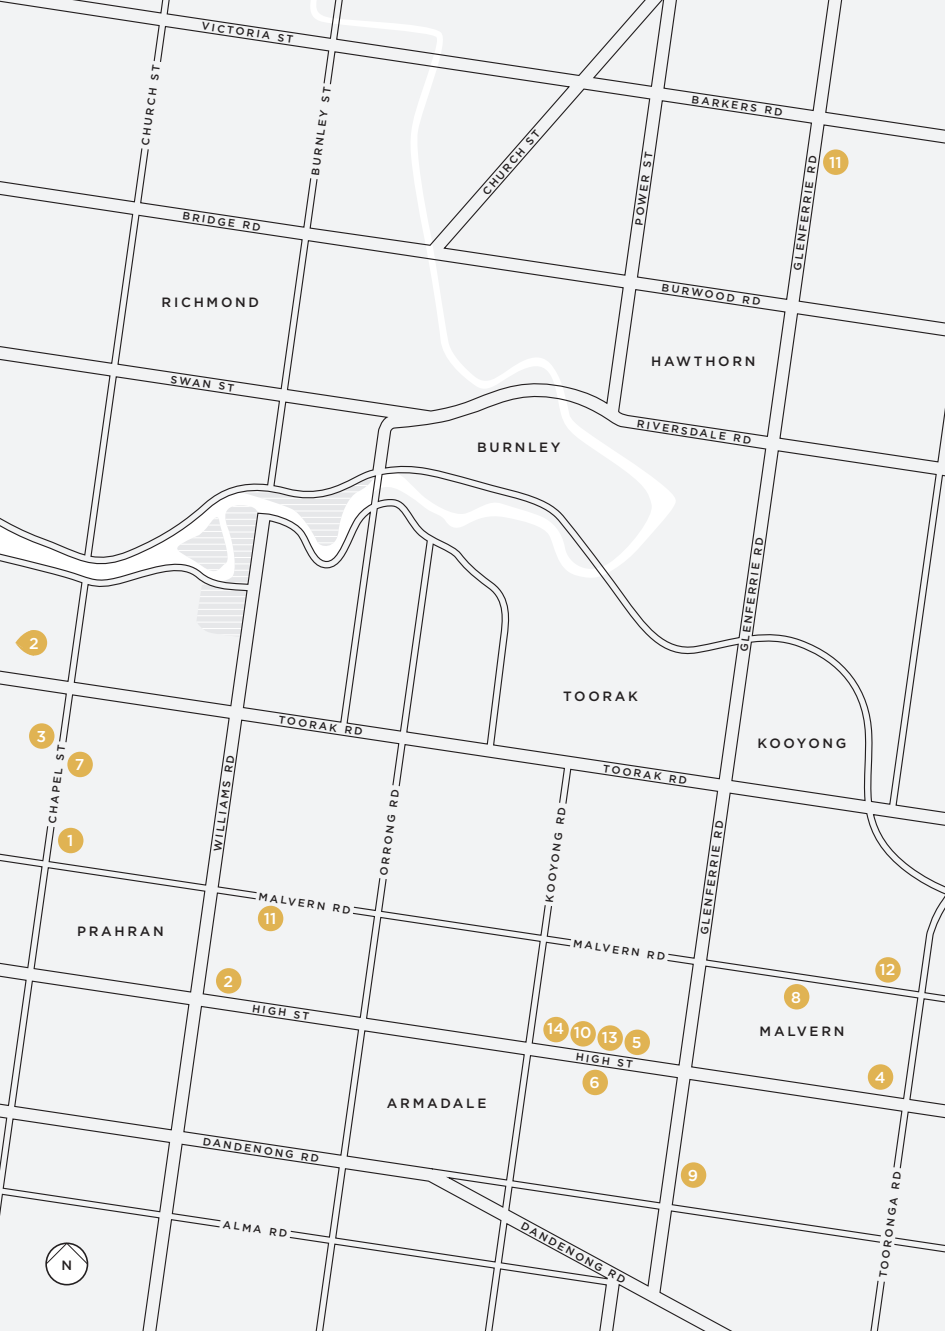

Ethical fashion can be hard to navigate. That's why Ethical Clothing Australia (ECA®) has done the hard work for you by organising this handy map, as part of Virgin Australia Melbourne Fashion Festival 2019. Look for the ECA label to indicate clothing made in Australia and accredited with ECA.

From high fashion to streetwear, basics and accessories, we've got you covered.

Ethical Clothing Australia (ECA) is an accreditation body working towards a more transparent and accountable fashion industry – one that values ethical business practices and the rights of those making the products.

Supporting ECA-accredited businesses helps strengthen our local industry and ensures the people who made your clothes have been paid fairly, are receiving their entitlements and are working in safe conditions.

ECA is proudly a collaborative, joint union and business initiative. The program maps the supply chain via annual compliance audits independently conducted by the union representing textile, clothing and footwear workers.

You'll find a selection of ECA's accredited businesses in Melbourne's CBD and surrounds here. Our list of accredited businesses is always growing though - head to www.ethicalclothingaustralia.org.au for an up-to-date list, and more information about ECA accreditation. Please note that ECA accreditation only applies to Australian-made items.

Ethical Clothing Australia is a proud participant in the 2019 Virgin Australia Melbourne Fashion Festival
